The image displays a comprehensive catalog of timber mouldings, organized in a grid. Each entry includes a technical drawing of the moulding profile, a label with a product code (e.g., JT100, JT101, JT102), and a list of dimensions in millimeters. The mouldings vary in shape, including decorative architraves, simple beams, and complex profiles with multiple grooves or curves. The labels are placed below each drawing, and the dimensions are listed in small text. The entire catalog is set against a light background with a dark border.
